

Girl Doesn't Text Back Cheat Sheet

by: textdino.com

Spiking a Girl's Curiosity

Your best bet in getting a girl (who doesn't text back) to reply is to really spike her curiosity.

However, this is only a temporary fix - if you don't fix your bad texting habits, she will get bored and, once again, she'll stop texting you back. That's why I recommend that you read the 7 deadly texting mistakes report.

I want to remind you that the reason we text a girl is to get her out on a date. This is why you should structure your texting to eventually get the girl out.

So this is what you need to do:

1. You want to spike her curiosity such that she feels very compelled to reply
2. Transform her reply into a fun text exchange
3. Propose a meet-up after you get her laughing a few messages later

How does one craft texts to make a girl curious?

Here are some examples..

3 Hook Texts that Spike Her Curiosity

Text #1: Hmm, I need your opinion on something..

Girls LOVE to give out their opinion.

She will get hooked for the following reasons:

1. The fact that she can't resist giving out her opinion
2. Curiosity to what your question is going to be.
3. Maybe it relates to her. Maybe there is something about HER that is making you ask for her advice. She wants to know what quality she has that led you to ask for her opinion.

After she answers, be playful and make up something outrageous like,

"I'm thinking of quitting my job and becoming a mime"

After she replies,

say

"When you see me doing my things on the street, will you put a Euro in my hat?"

Example:

Me: I'm thinking about quitting my job and becoming a mime.

She: That sounds like a promising career choice. You should definitely go for it! Ha!

Me: When you see me doing my thing on campus, would you put a Euro in my hat?

She: Hahaha no. But maybe a dime. I don't have euros.

Me: But I'm the best.. I have an edge on all the other mimes out there.... I talk.

She: I think that's against the rules. Just sayin.

Me: hmm, you must be one of those nice girls that never breaks the rules and does everything properly..yep, just like I thought.

She: You caught me....

Me: :) You need to learn a few things.. I think ima take you with me to Paris where I will mime in the streets while you pick the pockets of onlooking tourists. After counting the money we can go run through fancy museums while being jacked up on red bull.

She: Hahaha you had me until red bull....

Me: We'll be running around ancient museums while being jacked up on the hot cocoa we had next to the fireplace previously

She: That's better.

Text #2. Haha.. is it true?

Another great text that suggests you heard something about HER. She'll want to know what it is and who told you about it. So she will probably reply with something like "what are you talking about?" or "?"

That's when you get outrageous again. Tell her something that relates to her.

For example, If she likes penguins, say something like,

"I heard you ran off to join the circus to pursue your dream of dancing with penguins - I'm so happy for you"

Text #3 Well, it's obvious...

This text contains 3 parts:

1. Well it's obvious [funny reason why she isn't responding]....
2. funny/teasing event or part of the situation that's clearly keeping her from answering you. (Something you hope happened to her or you hope didn't happen to her)
3. The hook: when she is done doing whatever she is doing, she should text you back because you have a fun idea or a quick question..etc..

This last part spikes her curiosity and makes her wonder what it is you want to do or ask her. This is when you seed a meet-up with her.

Here are all 3 parts put together:

Well it is obvious you finally pursued your dream of becoming a mermaid...when you are done singing songs with your underwater friends send me a text I have a fun idea

So now it's time to formulate a texting game plan.
